

Plant for Pollinators

The Cincinnati Zoo & Botanical Garden has been awarded several grants to increase pollinator habitat in the community.

OVER 4,000

Registered gardens planted since 2019

North America hosts nearly 3,600 species of native bees.

17

Bee Our Partners in 2025!

55
pollinator kits sold in 2025!

Cincinnati is the world's only arboretum within a Zoo to achieve Level IV accreditation through ArbNet—a program with the only global initiative which officially recognizes arboreta.

Gardens registered in 37 STATES AND THREE COUNTRIES

15,000
plant-pollinator interactions documented by Pollinator Watch volunteers since 2023.

IN 2025, the Cincinnati Zoo & Botanical Garden received The Daisy Stickel Conservation Award.

TAKE THE NEXT STEP!

Upload pollinator data that you find by going to <https://www.inaturalist.org/> and setting up an account.

"The love of gardening is a seed once sown that never dies."

—Gertrude Jekyll

13,775

native plants sold to local gardeners in 2025!

Over 85% of the world's flowering plants rely on pollinators.

"Where flowers bloom, so does hope."
—Lady Bird Johnson

THANK YOU TO OUR 2025 PARTNERS!

NATIVE PLANT SPONSOR

Echinacea Sponsors

Cathy Crain
Day Heights Garden Club
Green Living by Design
Kendrick & O'Dell Landscaping
Morgan's Natural Buzz Honey
Osmia Bee Company
Stride Studios

Phlox Sponsors

Natorp's Nursery
Plunkett's for Pollinators
White Oak Gardens
Wimberg Landscaping

Milkweed Sponsors

A.J. Rahn Greenhouses
Firehouse Nursery
OAGC Ohio Association of Garden Clubs,
Region 4
Federated Garden Clubs of Greater Cincinnati

